Judy Jensen Reigns Over Ma-ie Day

The entire campus throbbed with activity May 14 as students gathered to celebrate their 31st annual Ma-ie Day. The day-long holiday began at 7:30 a.m. with a sunrise dance and breakfast in the Milo Bail Student Center. Filled with anticipation, the crowd gathered on the bank south of the Student Center as Judy Jensen of Alpha Xi Delta was crowned Princess Attira the XXXI. Her attendants were Phyllis Faasse, Chi Omega; Ruth Helligso, Sigma Kappa, and Judy McCoy, Zeta Tau Alpha. Competitive games including an egg toss, pie eating contest and gunny sack race were held in the Pep Bowl, followed by a steak fry.

Timothy Schott, Reta Mitchell and Gregg Loso in "Ways and Means"

The Summer Theater Workshop presented four plays throughout the summer. "Claudia," a warm and witty play by Rose Franklin, revolved around Claudia, an immature naive girl who has been married for less than a year. Arthur Miller's award winning play "All My Sons" is a compelling drama of man's responsibility to man. Noel Coward's "Ways and Means", a subtle comedy, told the story of a British wife stranded with her husband in France. A light comedy about a hen-pecked husband who finds refuge in alcohol and world literature was Coward's "Fumed Oak"

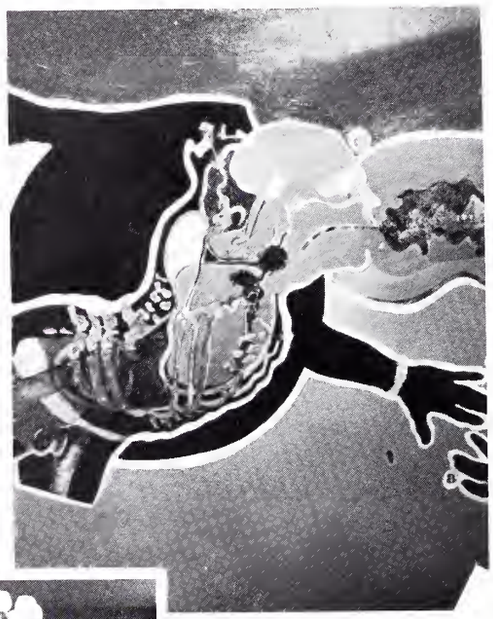
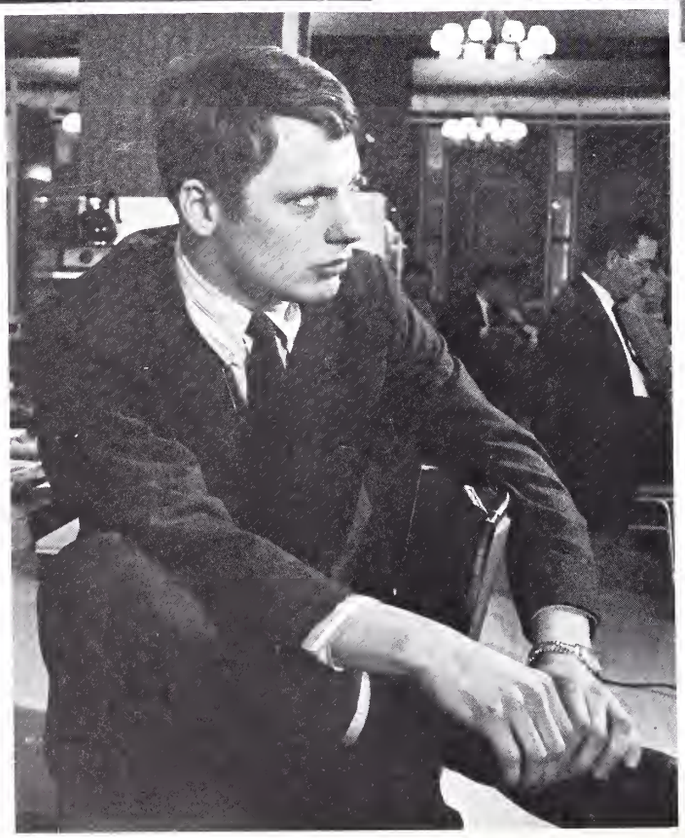
Art Auction

The annual art auction May 9 gave artists a chance to earn approximately $4,200. Warren Gore served as auctioneer. Receiving the most for their works were Ward Schumaker, Fred Somers and Ree Troia. Students received 75 per cent of the selling price, the other 25 per cent went to the Art Club fund.

OU Artists Involved in Controversy





Controversy surrounded the Third Annual Governors Art Show when Ward Schumaker's painting was judged first place, sold, and then removed from the exhibit. Artists became aroused when the first place decision was changed to favor a painting by Fred Somers. The Schumaker painting was considered by some as obscene and hence not suitable for a place in the Governor's mansion.
Somers is shown at far left with his painting while Schumaker is shown with his controversial painting below.

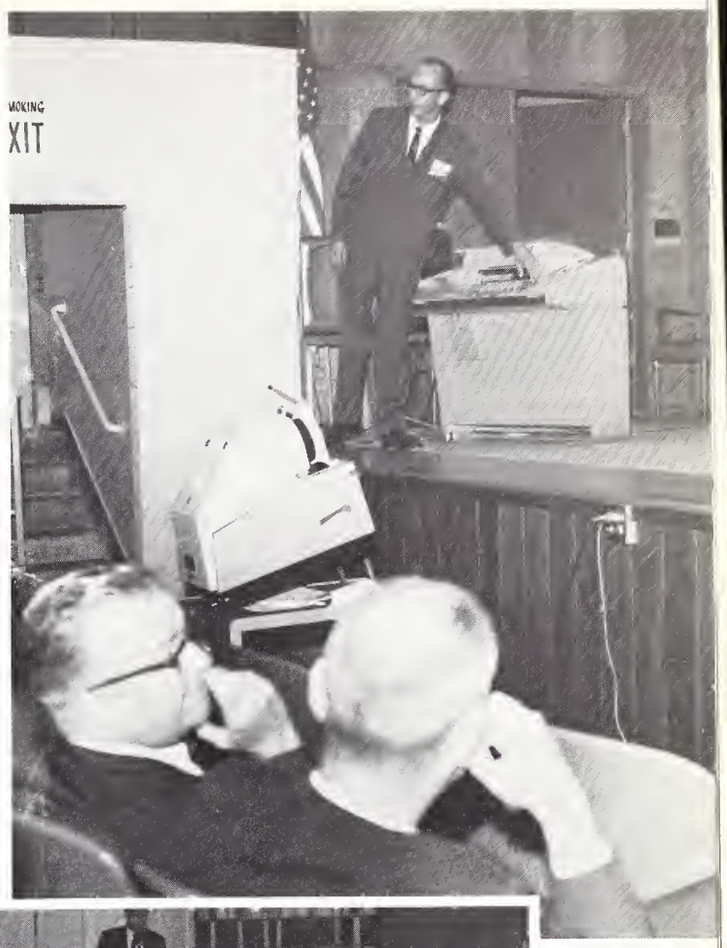
Education Is Year-Around Function



Education is not a nine month proposition, and the schedule of summer activities at O.U. for mid-western educators and businessmen is proof. The National Conference on Higher Education Facilities, July 22-24, included 18 special seminars on such topics as campus growth and form, and campus automation. O.U. was host to over 160 business staff members from colleges in the United States and Canada for the Short Course in College Business Management. The Summer High School Speech Institute was held July 19 through August 6. The summer short courses were well-attended, as usual.

The Continuing Challenge

As the world, itself, becomes smaller each year, the Omaha University World Affairs Institute has grown from small dinner gatherings to auditorium fillers. The annual series of lectures, given by well-known authors, world travelers, news reporters and correspondents, has, year after year, more support. The program never fails to touch upon such varied topics as world problem areas, comparative governments and their policies, news-making personalites and current events taking place around the globe. Each lecture is preceded with an introduction and brief background of the speaker by Dean William Utley. Members of the audience have always been encouraged to participate in the question-answer period following each lecture. The 1965 series of World Affairs lectures began October 5 and was concluded November 10.

Speaker William H. Stringer began the 1965 series of lectures as he presented his views on "Europes Changing Pattern." The world-wide traveler and London Bureau Chief of the Christian Science Monitor has centered his interests on the essential roles each nation will play in the second half of the twentieth century. The October 11 lecture brought David Schoenbrum, author of the most detailed book ever written about Charles DeGaulle. John Peer Nugent, "Newsweek" correspondent in Africa, gave a lecture entitled "Communism in Africa—Fact or Fiction," October 20. The next lecture, October 27, found Michael Cope at Omaha University. He spoke on the "Challenge of the New China." Another World Affairs visiting lecturer was Dr. Donald Cox, consulting editor on space flight issues for the "Current." Concluding the 1965 series was Robin Moore, author of "The Green Berets," whose lecture was entitled, "Viet Nam: What Kind of Victory?"

Greeks Vie For New Members

Members of Zeta Tau Alpha, Alpha Xi Delta and Sigma Kappa meet and talk with rushees.

The season of rushing began before school even started for ten Greek organizations on campus. Sororities began rushing activities Sept. 11 with a Panhellenic Tea. The women met and discussed sorority life on campus. Individual parties with a campus setting were held on the evenings of Sept. 12 through the 15. The Interfraternity Council held a mixer Sept. 14 in the Student Center Ballroom. Fraternities held rushing off campus Sept. 15 through the 17.

Alpha Epsilon Pi

Alpha Epsilon Pi is ending its fifth year as a colony on campus. Because of its short existence the fraternity is small in number, but is gradually beginning to take its place among the other Greek organizations. The fraternity hosted its second annual AEPi Throw last Spring.

At 25 cents a throw participants were able to toss a whipped cream pie at the target of their choice. Each Greek organization entered a "pie face" in competition for King and Queen of the evening. Joan Edwards, Zeta Tau Alpha, and Bruce Dickinson, Tau Kappa Epsilon, were named Queen and King of the event. Highlighting the evening was the appearance of the Candid Camera employees who spent the evening filming unsuspecting participants for a future show. Proceeds from the event were donated to the Milo Bail Fountain Fund. Tom Petersen was awarded a N. Murray Longworth scholarship and active Sidney Heisler a Regent's Scholarship last fall. Officers of the fraternity are Mel Epstein, master; Bob Friedman, lieutenant master; Larry Zwart, scribe and pledge master and Gordon Lazerson, exchequer.

Delta Sigma Pi

Delta Sigma Pi is the men's professional business fraternity. The fraternity began its existence on OU's campus in 1949. Members must be enrolled in the College of Business Administration and hold a 2.0 accumulative grade average. Delta Sig participated in basketball, volleyball, baseball and bowling intramurals on campus. The fraternity's skill in bowling was tested when they competed in the interfraternity tournament with the Nebraska and Creighton chapters. The OU chapter finished second in the competition. The annual dinner dance was held in April. A chapter vote revealed S. J.

Pi Kappa Alpha

Pi Kappa Alpha won its third consecutive fraternity scholarship trophy at the Greek Week banquet. Besides scholarship the fraternity showed other signs of leadership during the year. All school elections placed Doug Slaughter, Jim Sandoz and Tom Fischer on the Student Council. Doug was later elected president of the student body. Steve Sheppard and Ron Morford were elected sophomore and freshman class officers respectively. The freshman class elected Tom Helligso vice-president. Rich Tompsett was declared a Knight of Chi Omega sorority. First place trophies were captured in intramural swimming, outdoor track, football, four mile relay, archery,

Theta Chi

The oldest fraternity on campus, Theta Chi is ending its sixteenth year at O. U. Under the leadership of Leroy Dyer, president, the men hosted three all Greek events. Fraternities and sororities competed in farce Olympic events at the annual OX Olympics in March and January. The end of the two evenings saw Pam Adams of Chi Omega and Jane Carter of Sigma Kappa named Helen of Trop in March and January respectively. March was also the month of the dinner dance at which the brothers of Theta Chi honored Jane Treutler as their "Dream Girl". Lydia White, Zeta Tau Alpha, was named

Mixed Success

Indian cindermen enjoyed only mixed success during the 1965 indoor and outdoor seasons. Omaha U hosted the Central Intercollegiate Indoor Meet for the sixth year in a row. Our small squad managed a credible third place finish. A nine-man delegation to the Kansas State Indoor broke three school records. The outdoor squad finished with a one and two dual record and finished last in the CIC.

A feared face on the mound . . . All-American Larry Krehbiel.

An Era Ends

Larry Krehbiel last season closed out a three-year stint as the OU moundsman by being selected to the first team NAIA All-America squad. The Omaha native won his first 19 tests as an Indian hurler, and lost only two games his senior year. In 1964 Larry was a second team All-American. His forte was control, and he had 10 shutouts in his first 23 starting assignments. His career earned run average was well under two, and he struck out more than 225 batters in three memorable years.

Baseballers Roll. . .

Jim Collin's stretch helps make it a frustrating evening for cross-town rival Creighton U.

Pointing To St. Joe. . .

Coach Virgil Yelkin's perennially good baseball squads have become an OU fixture. 1965 was no exception. A 19-6 season was capped by a second-place finish in the NAIA Nationals in St. Joseph, Missouri in June. Carson-Newman of New Jersey was the only team there who could beat the Indians, and they did it twice. Through a 19-6 season, Yelkin stressed that his team was pointing at the tournaments, and they came on strongest at season's end.

In 18 years of coaching OU baseball teams, Yelkin has piled up a win percentage of well over 75 percent. His teams have placed second, third and fourth in NAIA play. In 1966 . .

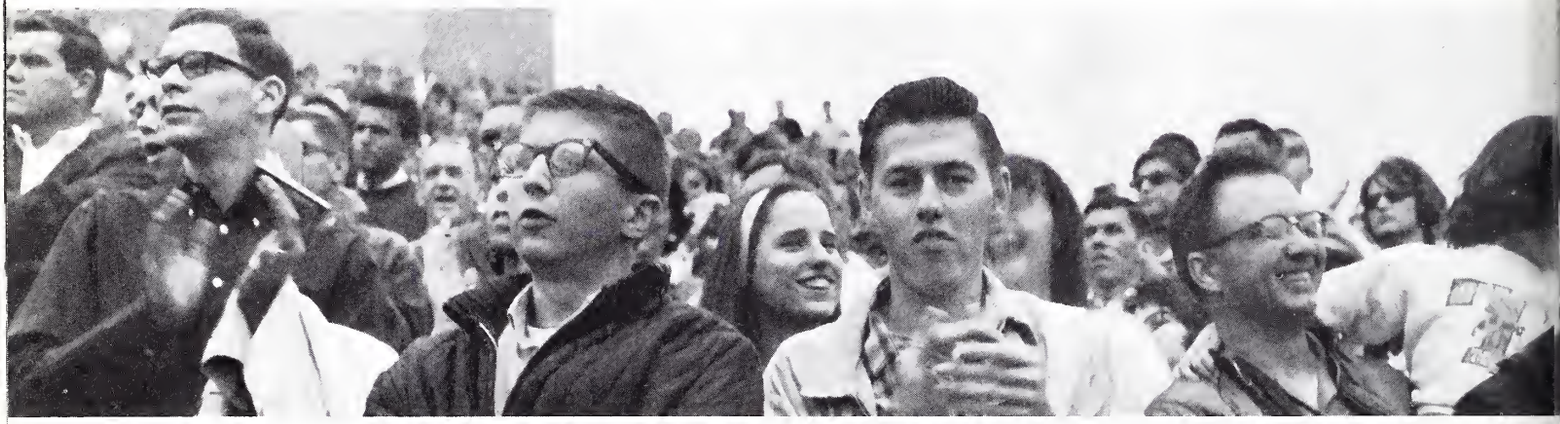
Regular first baseman Jim Collins . . . injured in late season.



RECORD CROWDS AND SURGING SPIRIT

Omaha's exciting Indian footballers drew all-time record crowds during their five home games in the successful 1965 grid season. More than 28,000 fans attended and were cheered on by the varsity cheerleaders and Ouampi, the wild Indian. Gateway Football Night at Rosenblatt Stadium drew the largest throng . . . more than 8,200. Even the Saturday afternoon contests managed to bring out several thousand fans, despite competition from television and other area games.

OU 26 Idaho St. 14

The opener was much closer than the final score indicates. Two Marlin Briscoe passes . . . one to freshman flanker Rick Davis for 45 yards, brought the Indians from a 14-13 deficit with less than eight minutes left in the game. A successful beginning . . .

OU 14 Bradley 12

The largest crowd in OU history saw this night thriller. Over 8200 fans were on hand for "Gateway Football Night." The Indians scored first and it was see-saw football from that point on.

OU 21 Morningside 6

A strong OU second half was the difference in this traditional battle. After spotting the Iowans a 6 point halftime advantage, the Indians roared back for three TD's and a victory. A balanced attack was the key.

OU 13 Northern Ill. 28

Northern was one of the top small college teams in the nation. The passing of veteran quarterback Ron Christian accounted for 213 yards and the Indians could not get moving. The surprise of the game was the way Northern moved the ball on the ground.

OU 27 Pittsburg St. 7

Homecoming and a sweet beginning to the successful CIC title quest. Piling up 320 yards total offense, Allen, Dodd, Briscoe and associates dominated the game from beginning to end. Pitt's touted passing game was held to 26 yards.

FIRST ROW: Joe Benson, Student Manager Bob Lowe, Ken Pelan, Bill Jansen, Buddy Belitz, Dom Polifrone. SECOND ROW: Coach Don Benning, Marlin Briscoe, Pat Smagacz, Greg Kavan, Francis Robbins, Gerald Allen, Dave Stinnett.

It was close all the way, but the CIC title returned to Omaha. Two sustained drives in the last half, sandwiched around a 60 yard TD toss from Briscoe to Davis made all the difference needed.

OU 48 E. New Mexico 28

REVENGE ! ! ! The Indians invaded Portales, New Mexico, and completely dominated the contest. Fourteen of E.N.M.'s points were scored in the last minute of play. A strong ground game and two Briscoe to Davis bombs were too much for the outclassed Greyhounds.

OU 46 Emporia St. 14

The Indians piled up a 46-0 lead in a little more than three quarters before Coach Caniglia relented and put in the subs. Marlin Briscoe hit on 13 of 15 passes and Gerry Allen scored four touchdowns.

OU 30 Drake 36

The Bulldogs rode the strong legs of fullback Ray Brown to come from a 14-0 deficit to close the Indians season on a sour note. Gerry Allen broke the all-time OU rushing record in his final game, but three straight Drake scores proved too much.

OU 19 Washburn St. 10

A toughie . . . OU had to score twice on sustained drives in the last half to down the determined defending CIC champs. Little All-American Gerald Allen, fullback Bill Dodd and Marlin Briscoe started sweeping the ends after intermission and the victory was sealed.

It Wasn't Easy !!

That is perhaps the understatement of the year. These pileups were the rule rather than the exception in OU's tough 10-game schedule.
On the facing page . . . OU quarterback Marlin "The Magician" Briscoe uses the cartwheel to get over the goal line for another six.

Jones, Allen To The Pros

End Jim Jones and All-American halfback Gerald Allen signed contracts with professional teams shortly after the completion of their football careers at OU. Jones is to go with the New York Jets of the American Football League, where he is to be turned into a linebacker. Allen was the only running back drafted by the National Football League Baltimore Colts. Very few OU players have made it to the pros, and it will be a credit to the school if these two standouts make good in the "big leagues."

Last Spring. . .

Tennis

Ron Grothe and Prentice Besore were the top scorers in a rough spring for Coach Jim Borsheim's tennis squad. The Tennismen won three of their dual meets . . . over Doane, Midland and Morningside, but finished last in the Central Intercollegiate Conference Tournament.

Golf

The golfers of Coach Ken Fischer won six of 15 in 1965, and finished third in the CIC championships. Leading golfers were Jim Thompson and Bill Hoffman. Falling victim to the linksmen were Nebraska Wesleyan, South Dakota U, Midland, Emporia St., Morningside and Doan. The Indians expected several lettermen back for the 1966 season.

Cagers 8-14 On Season

Coach Jim Borsheims roundballers showed flashes of brilliance during a 22 game season, but were unable to perform consistently. The Indians wound up 8-14 on the season, and 3-5 in the CIC race, where they finished in a third place tie. Big wins included an 84-50 pasting of the University of Minnesota at Duluth, and a season ending 77-66 over CIC runnerup Emporia. The lowpoint was a 106-75 defeat at St. Benedict's. Sam Singleton led OU scorers with a 19.1 average; Dennis Browne was next at 15.7. Browne also led in rebounds. He pulled down 291 for a 13.2 per game average.

Gould Tops in Cross Country

Senior Ken Gould led the Omaha U. harriers through the cross country season with victories in 11 of the 13 meets the team entered. His only defeats came in the CIC championships, where he finished third behind two Ft. Hays runners and the NAIA nationals where he finished a very creditable fourth. OU's four-mile Elmwood Park Course was host to the NAIA Championship for the sixth year in a row. A record 184 runners participated in the 1965 event, held on a snow-sprinkled course November 27. Gould's finish was not an omen for the Indian team. OU finished 20th out of the 22 teams entered. During the season, OU won two dual meets, finished second in the Amateur Athletic Union midwest championships at Kearney and fourth in the CIC tourney at Emporia, Kansas.

The psychology professor was presented a silver cup by the "O" Club for outstanding and generous service to athletes outside the classroom. Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity gave him a plaque for his efforts toward OU sports programs in his ten years at our school. All-American pitcher Larry Krehbiel was named 1965's Outstanding Athlete. Other awards went to five football players, including Gerald Allen's little All-America certificate, two basketball players, four wrestlers and six trackmen.

Sixteen teams in two leagues played seven game schedules in last fall's intramural flag football competition. The Satellites and the Fugitives won the league titles, and the Fugitives took the playoff game. Both were undefeated during league play. Following the regular schedule, an all-star game was held November 9.

The biggest intramural wrestling tournament ever drew 82 wrestlers in the second week in December. The single-elimination competition was spread over two days. There were nine weight divisions, from 123 pounds through the heavyweight class. The Satellites easily outdistanced all competition for the top spot in the ten team tourney. They had five of the ten champions and amassed 42 points to 20 for the runner-up Pi Kaps, who in turn won the Fraternity portion by a seven point margin over Lambda Chi. Pi Kaps, Sig Eps and TKE all had a single individual champ.

Bigger Than Ever. . .

A record 24 teams participated in the three-league intramural basketball season. The Bruins, Cherubs and Tubes all finished with perfect season records, and each won their league. Pi Kaps had the top fraternity mark with a 5-2 season. In the annual tournament, the Bruins finished on top, taking a one point decision from Kappa Alpha Psi in the championship game.

Faculty and Administration

President Traywick

"I want to help Omaha University grow and develop, rather than change," said Dr. Leland Traywick after he was appointed eighth president of the University of Omaha succeeding Milo Bail.

It has been a busy year since he took office on February 1, 1965. His philosophy can be summed up by a statement he made recently after his appointment. "A chance to broaden and deepen one's education and skills is not only just money in the bank but it is most importantly a satisfactory life—a job well done, something of which you can be proud—and this I submit is the greatest of all satisfactions."

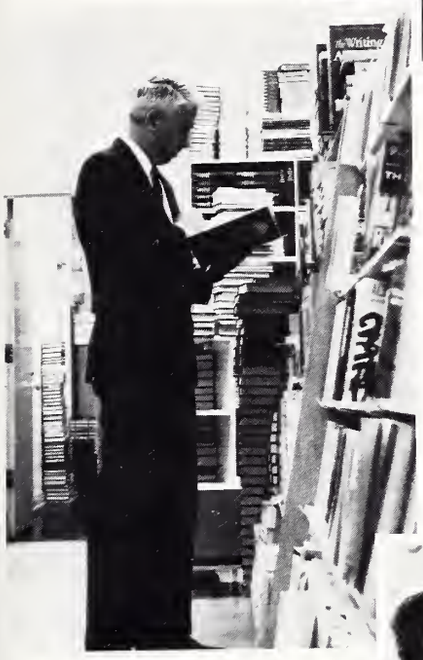
His life as a typical OU bootstropper begins with counseling from William G. Koeser, director of on campus militory education.

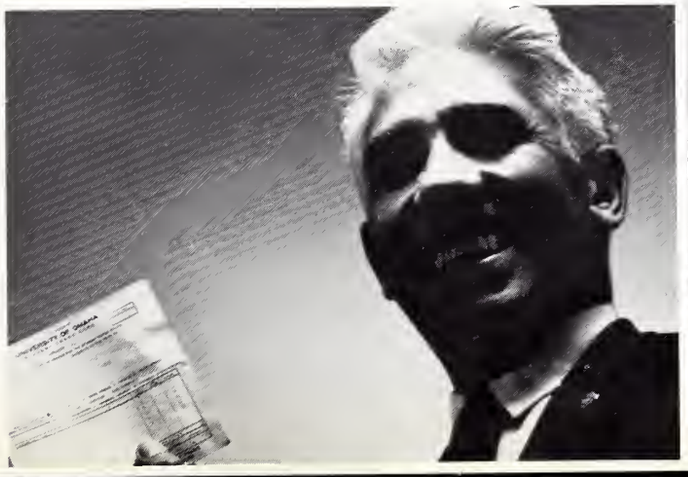
A host of new experiences await Copt. Robert Keyes as he walks up the shoded path to the Administration Building.

The Bootstrapper



Surrounded with shelves piled high with books, the Captoin glances through a text ot the compus bookstore.

A hot cup of coffee and cosual conversation with fellow bootstrappers Harold Wootan and Ivan Worrell start a busy doy off right.



But he decides that studying pays off os he proudly displays his grade card at the end of a hectic, but rewarding semester.

Concentration is the keyword as Capt. Keyes settles down to the serious business of getting ready for final exams.

A Play Begins Behind the Scenes

Stocks of lumber rest ogoinst one woll. The loft is piled high with furniture of ossorted shopes ond sizes. The sound of busy hommers ond sows fill the scene shop. The production stoff is hord ot work. Their job is very importont. They must provide the carefully-designed settings needed to complement the octor's polished performonce.

The curtain goes up on opening night. Among cast members, hearts may beat a little faster. They know that they are being put to the test. But the success or failure of their performance began many weeks ago behind the scenes—on the bare stage and in the scene shop. For a play is the result of many, tedious hours of toil and concentration. The University Theater is no exception. At the left, in a moment of stillness, Joe Schick waits for Anne MacLeod to answer with the correct line. At the right, Joyce Hunter displays the emotional involvement needed to portray her role as Claudia vividly and believably. Reta Mitchell, who plays her mother, sits calmly.

The faculty have various interests beyond the classroom. Below, Sam Sollenberger is shown visiting with President Emeritus Milo Bail. Dean Helmstadter and President Leland Traywick greet students at commencement reception.

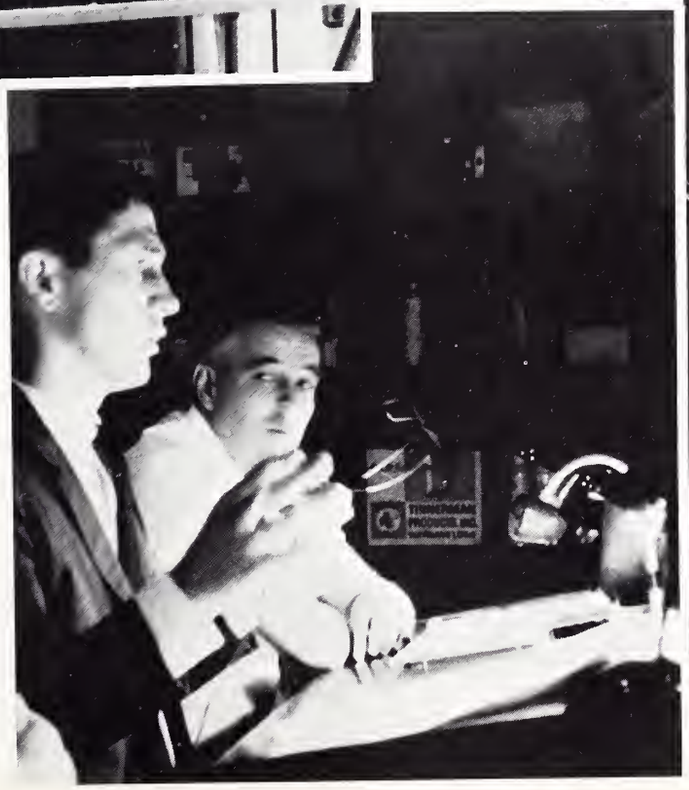
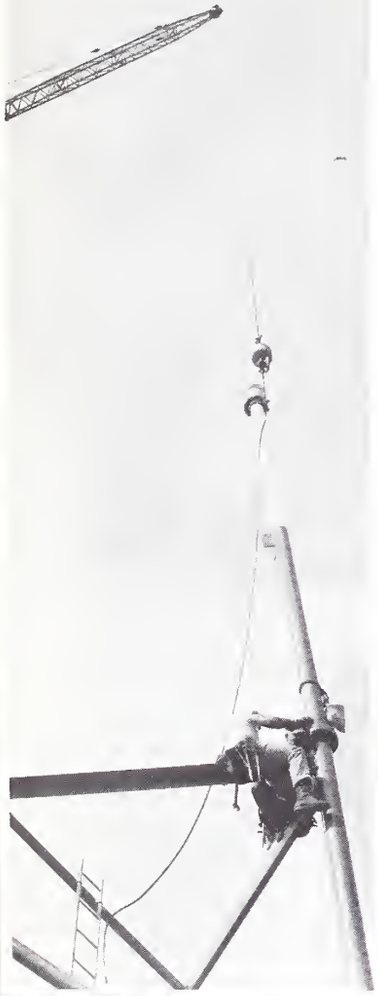
"O the snow, the beautiful snow, filling the sky and the earth below.
Over the house-tops, over the street, over the heads of the people you meet,
Dancing, flirting, skimming along,
Beautiful snow, it can do nothing wrong."

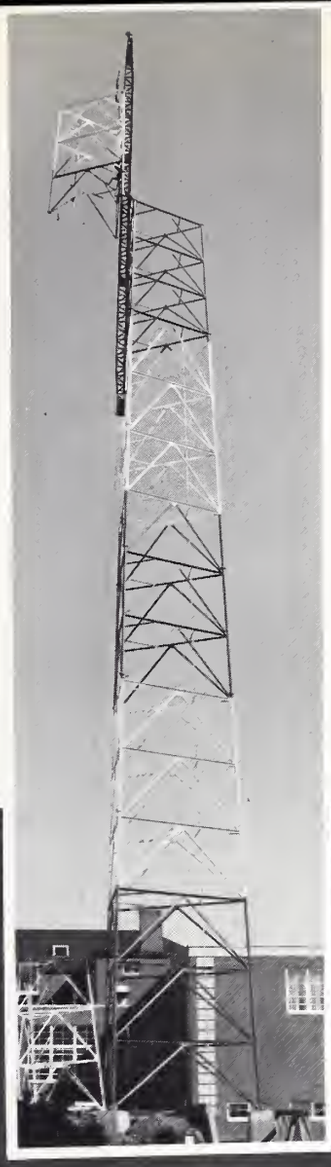
TV and Radio Programs Originate from AA Studios

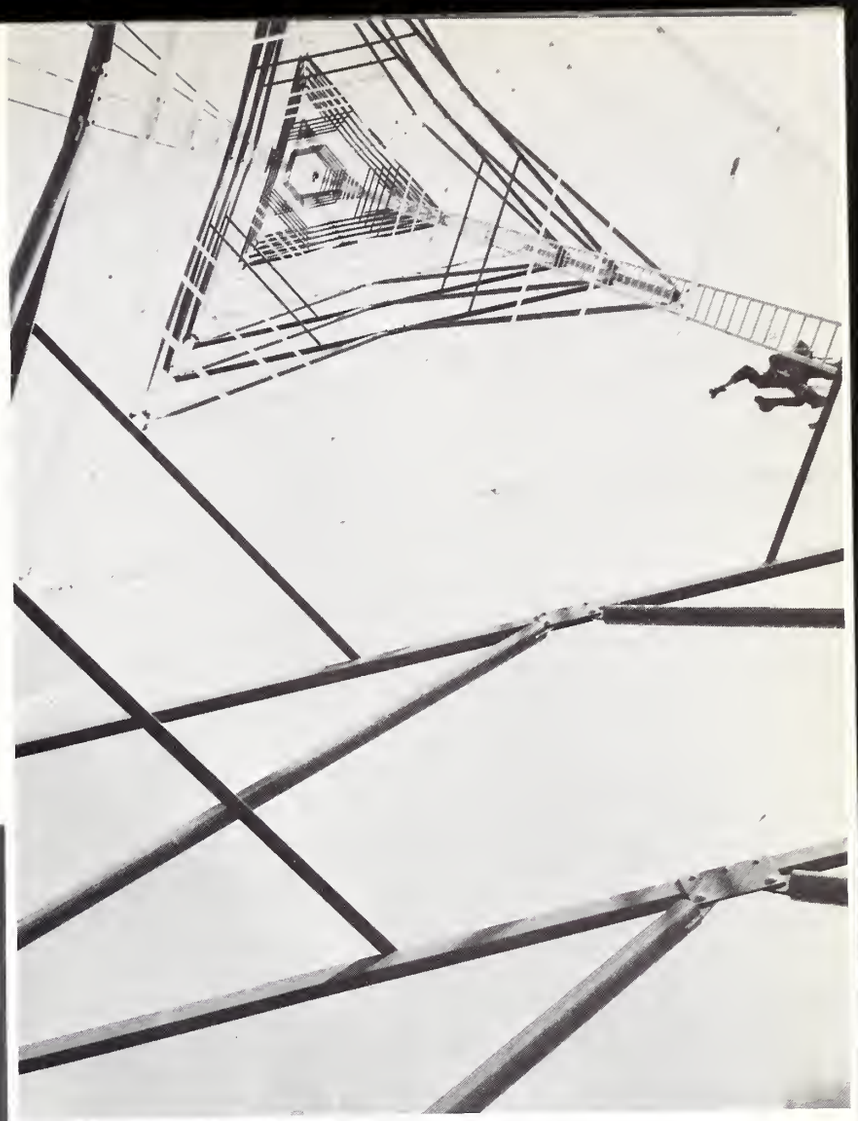
The Radio and Television Department continued broadcasting closed circuit classes the past year. Biology and Psychology 101 lectures were taped. Students majoring in television manned cameras, served as floor managers and occasionally helped with the audio for these programs. The eleventh year of "TV Classroom" lectures was transmitted by KMTV from OU studios. Priscilla Wilkins was student manager. Instructor was Jim Onder.



TV Tower Gives Campus New Look



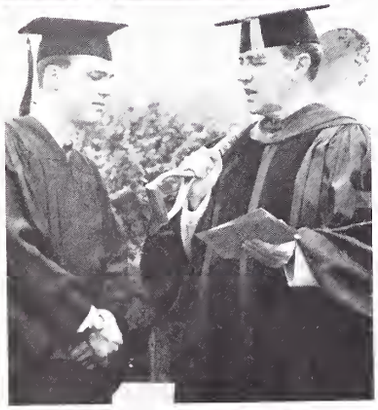




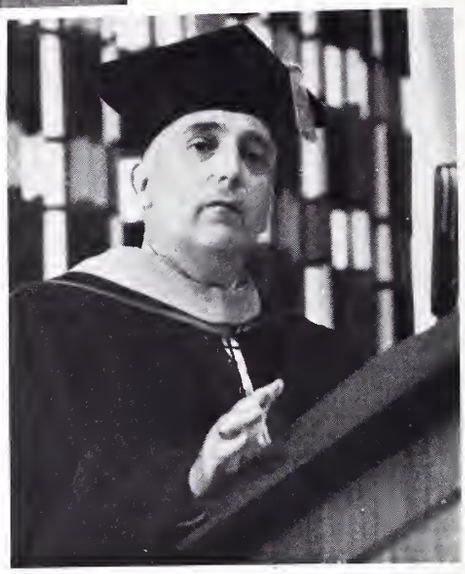
Viewed from underneath, the soaring tower forms a great metallic web.

Eyes were turned upward to view the sight. Perched high above the ground, construction workers clung to their steel supports. They carried on their tasks nonchalantly, shouting signals, back and forth to fellow workmen. Now completed, the 407 foot steel TV structure has given the entire campus a new look. From Dodge Street, it seems to sprout from the Applied Arts Building. The tower was erected this fall by the Metropolitan Omaha Educational Broadcasting Association. KYNE-TV, channel 26, began beaming its signals into area classrooms October 25. The MOEBA studios are located in the A.A. Building, where seven teachers produce taped programs for 80,000 elementary school youngsters. Paul Borge, director of radio and television, is station manager.

Seniors



A 3.9 grade average earned Mrs. Deanne Hammer the American Association of University Women Award, presented by Dean of Women Elizabeth Hill.



"Stand up and be counted," Dr. Francis Hurst, professor of psychology, advised in his charge to the class.

Senior Day, May 21, intensified the excitement of graduation for the class of 1965. The Senior Class gift--$500 to help finance the Milo Bail Fountain--was presented to the University by Herb Rhodes, class treasurer. Awards were given to outstanding seniors. Following the convocation, the group adjourned to the north side of the Student Center where President Traywick and class president Mike Kisgen planted a Red Maple tree.

Seniors Help Finance Fountain

Outstanding Seniors

OU's top senior man and woman, William Bryant and Cynthia McMillan, were given special recognition at Senior Day. They were cited for their accumulative grade point averages, which were 3.69 and 3.98 respectively.

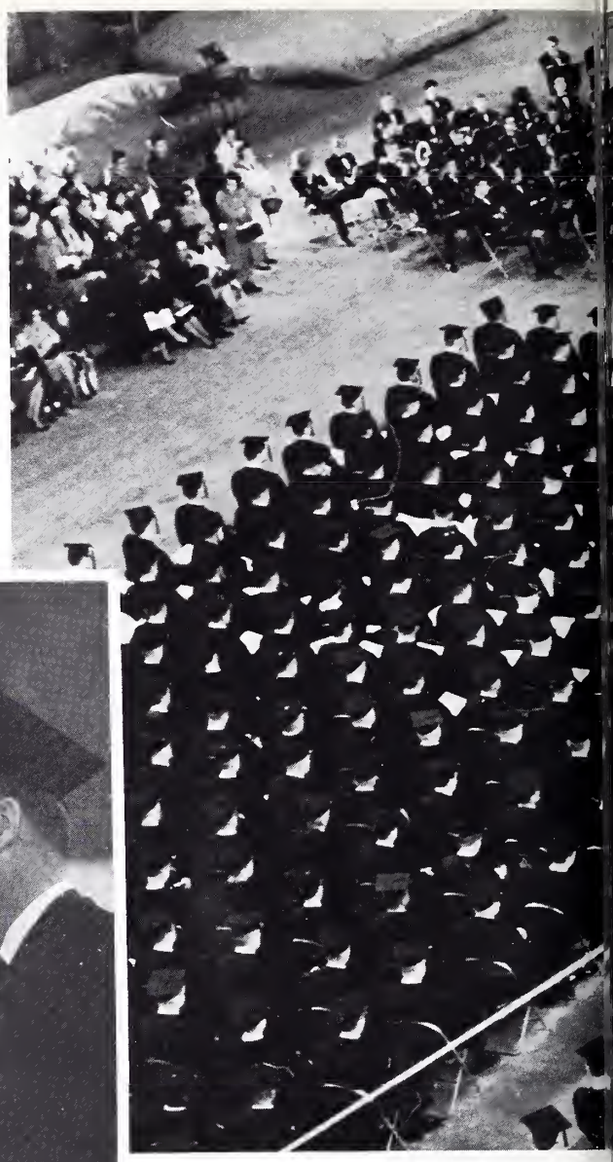
Cynthia McMillan, Deanne Brezacek Hammer and Judy Eichhorn Gilbert were graduated summa cum laude after accumulating grade averages better than 3.87.

Cynthia McMillan and Prospero Saiz received 1965 Woodrow Wilson National Fellowships. They were awarded $1,800 stipends plus tuition and fees for a year of graduate school. Above, they are being congratulated by President Traywick and Dr. Robert D. Harper, Dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

Graduation day was a time for recalling the past and reaching out to a not-so-distant future beyond the college walls. Parents and friends beamed as President Traywick awarded degrees to 904 students at the University's 56th annual Commencement June 7th. Speaker General Albert Wedemeyer, native Omahan known for his work as World War II Chinese Theater commander, discussed "Human Values in the Space Age."

President Traywick Awards 904 Degrees in June

January Commencement



President Leland E. Traywick awarded Master of Arts and Master of Science degrees to 29 January graduates.

Families and friends of mid-year graduates braved sub-zero temperatures in order to attend commencement exercises. Dr. Leland E. Traywick conferred 550 degrees at ceremonies held January 29 in the Field House. This was Dr. Traywick's first mid-year graduation since he assumed the presidency. Dr. Howard Bowen, president of the University of Iowa, spoke "On Living in a Revolution."

Loren Drum, standing, was selected by fellow seniors to head the Class of 1966. Other officers pictured are Duane Mannon, second semester treasurer; Larry Hammer, vice-president; Livi Bergman, secretary, and Arnold Jensen, first semester treasurer. They presided over several senior class meetings and made arrangements for the first senior dinner-dance for January and March graduates. The affair was held January 28 at the Prom Town House Ballroom. Class sponsors were Dr. Paul V. Peterson, Associate Professor of Journalism, and Donald Manson, Assistant Professor of Speech.

"The past is but the beginning of a beginning, and all that is and has been is but the twilight of the dawn . . .
A day will come when beings who are now latent in our thoughts and hidden in our loins shall stand upon this earth as one stands upon a footstool, and shall laugh and reach out their hands
amid the stars."
